Description

Here's a fantastic opportunity to own a three-bedroom, two-bathroom property located downtown, near the new Creekside Community Center. With over 1,835 square feet of usable space M/L, this home features high ceilings and plenty of character. With some new renovations and flooring, this property could serve as a great investment or a rehab project for future home buyers. Priced to sell, come by and see if this project is what you've been waiting for. Please note that this home is being sold "As Is" and will not qualify for secondary market loans at this time. If you've been looking to save money and design a home with character tailored to your preferences, or make this home a new remodel project to build equity by selling after you're done this one has great character and the ability to turn heads when done right.
