Description

Discover a rare opportunity to own an one-acre lot in a unique and evolving rural setting, perfectly positioned next to an active airstrip. This property offers a distinctive blend of privacy, open space, and aviation access: ideal for enthusiasts, or anyone seeking something out of the ordinary. Imagine the convenience and excitement of fly-in access right to your doorstep, making travel seamless and truly one-of-a-kind. The surrounding area is already generating interest with planned development for a community campground, scenic lookout tower, and additional outdoor oriented amenities designed to enhance the natural landscape and create a destination atmosphere. The rural setting delivers peaceful surroundings, wide open skies, and a strong connection to nature while the nearby airstrip and upcoming community features add both value and appeal. Opportunities like this are increasingly rare: own a piece of land where lifestyle, recreation, and potential growth all take flight.
